PROGRAM OF OPPOSITION

Government Officials and Ship Owners in Conference

(By Associated Press)

Paris, March 5.—At a meeting of the German cabinet Monday, attended by party leaders and delegates of ship owners, it was agreed unanimously, it was understood, that Germany could not submit to coercion from the Entente powers even from armistice negotiations or in peace conference decisions proper, according to a Zurich dispatch.

The German government declared it would "decline all responsibility for consequences if the entente tries to speculate on German patience."

Demands regarding shipping are held to be absolutely unacceptable because, it was said, "it would definitely paralyze the country's economic future."

Germany also will oppose dismissal of German troops from ships requisitioned, it being pointed out this would put 42,000 seamen out of employment. A press campaign has been started against the armistice and preliminary peace conditions.

The Government, however, the bulletin says, has sent forces into Koenigsberg with the object of putting down the strike movement for seizure of the town.

The occupation of Dusseldorf by government forces has been accomplished without opposition.

Band Plays "Star Spangled Banner" as The Big Transport Leaves

(By Associated Press)

New York, March 5.—President Wilson sailed today on his second voyage to France determined as he said in his speech here last night "not to come back until it is over, over there."

The George Washington left the Hoboken pier at 8:15 a. m. and passed quarantine shortly after nine o'clock.

This chief executive's departure was marked by a simplicity which contrasted with the noisy demonstration given him when the George Washington carried Mr. Wilson from American waters on his first journey to France in December.

Today there was only a small crowd assembled at the pier. To these the President and Mrs. Wilson waved farewell greetings as the ship swung out into the lower Hudson river while on a nearby transport a band played "The Star Spangled Banner."

RAILROADS WILL NOT BE RETURNED TO OWNERS AS RESULT OF NO FINANCES

Director-General Hines Announces That Failure of The Senate to Act will Not Cause Roads to Be Turned Back Now

TO GET PRIVATE LOANS

Building and Improvement Plans Considered will be Carried Out, He Says

No Increased Rates or Laying Off Employees Considered

(By Associated Press)

Washington, March 5.—The government has no immediate intention of relinquishing control of railroads as result of failure of Congress to appropriate funds for the railroad administration, Director General Hines stated today.

Mr. Hines also explained that every effort would be made to continue operations as usual to avoid laying off employees and to finance the railroads through private loans or advances from the war finance corporation.

Although the railroad administration's program of capital expenditures for extensions, improvements and new buildings may be modified, the government will try to continue the projects planned through the next few months.

The railroad administration, he said, did not contemplate raising rates as a means of dealing with its financial predicament.

President Takes Action in Cases Wherein He Believed too Harsh Punishment Given

Rutherford and His Associates Are Not Allowed to Serve Sentences Imposed

(By Associated Press)

Washington, March 5.—President Wilson has acted on recommendations for commutation or pardon in cases of about 50 persons convicted and sentenced under the espionage act where no intent to violate the law was shown or where the sentences were regarded as excessive.

Among the 53 cases of convictions under the espionage act in which President Wilson has granted clemency is that of Frederick Kraft, of Newark, secretary of the socialist party in New Jersey. He was granted a full pardon.

No action was taken in the cases of J. F. Rutherford and his seven associates of the International Bible Students' Association, convicted in Brooklyn, on charges growing out of publication of the "Finished Mystery," and now serving sentences in federal prison.

The sentence of Amos L. Hitchcock, former Socialist member of the Cleveland, Ohio school board, was commuted from ten to two years.

BULGARIA NOW FACING CRISIS DEBT THE CAUSE

Cost of The War Was $1,500,000,000 and All Estimated Wealth is $2,200,000,000 is Claim Made Sofia, Bulgaria, January 9.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—Bulgaria is facing a financial crisis, it is asserted. The war cost the country over $1,500,000,000 while its estimated wealth is only $2,200,000,000. The national debt before the war was $160,000,000.

Of the national debt as it now stands Bulgaria owes Germany $600,000,000 which was advanced in installments of ten million, but last winter Germany discontinued this practice, and demanded payment for munitions in cash. Germany, evidently was not in the business of helping its Allies for nothing, as the prices charged Bulgaria for gas masks clearly indicate. For each mask it charged $16 and a sheepskin, as compared with the cost of a similar article for the United States army in England of $4.50.

Financial experts agree that the solvency of the country can only be preserved by the presentation of counter claims against Germany. Even if Bulgaria's total indebtedness to Germany is outweighed by Bulgaria's counter claims, oppressive taxes must be imposed for a decade or two in order to meet the remaining debt, say Bulgarians. The state revenues before the last three wars averaged $50,000,000 per annum. Recent taxation added $20,000,000 to this sum. To fill the gap between what is possible to raise by taxation and the needs of the nation it is now proposed to confiscate wealth illegally obtained in addition to drastic taxation of war profits.

Under Germany's tutelage the financial policy maintained by Bulgaria sank the country deeper and deeper every year in debt. It was the only belligerent country which issued no internal loan, but contented itself with printing paper money to the total of almost $500,000,000, at the normal rate of exchange. As a result Bulgaria's currency has depreciated more than one-half, while the accumulation of private wealth ran parallel to the rapidly mounting state debt. More than eighty banks were floated having a total capital-

Bulgaria's sole negotiable article of export is tobacco, and this she must use in the world's markets in exchange for food, clothing, cotton, oil, medicine etc. At present there are in the country the crops of the past two years, valued at about $300,000,000.

DOMESTICS ARE MUCH IN DEMAND AMONG BRITISH

London, January 24.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—The need of domestic servants is so seriously felt in England since the girl servants became munitions workers that Lady Londonderry, President of the Women's Legion, is heading a well-organized movement for the employment as servants of large numbers of the Women's Auxiliary Army Corps, now being demobilized. About 9,000 of the "Waacs" will be available for domestic work, it is estimated. It is hoped they will help to relieve the servant shortage.

"The chief points of the schemes," Lady Londonderry explained, "are a minimum wage, definite leave, interchange of work, badge and uniform, and a system of probation."

"We thought it best not to attempt to establish a stated working day, but two hours' leave must be given every day, four hours on Sunday, and one half day a week. Fourteen days' holiday, with wages, must be given each year."

"All servants sent out by the Legion will consist of first of our own members, most of whom have seen three or four years' war service. At present, we are confining the scheme to servants that live in homes where they are employed but if it proves a success we shall undertake a similar scheme for servants living out and for waitresses and hotel staffs."

NEW BUILDING TO BE ERECTED BY LOCAL FIRM

The Ortman Motor Company Soon to Begin Construction of Fire-proof Warehouse.

Structure Will be Three or Four Stories High and in Rear of Present Building on Market Street.

Within the next few weeks The Ortman Motor Company—the largest motor concern in this part of Ohio—will begin the construction of a three or four story fireproof warehouse building immediately back of the present building on Market street, according to announcement just made by the firm.

The announcement follows a sale by the firm of its large warehouse on East street, formerly used for garage purposes, and this week purchased by W. W. Hamilton and Will Palmer.

Plans for the new structure have been going forward for some time, and with the sale of the warehouse on East street its construction becomes an absolute necessity, it is pointed out, to house the large amount of machinery and supplies carried by the firm.

The building will be in the shape of the letter L and will be about 40 by 40 feet, possibly larger. It will be constructed of concrete, brick and steel, and made as near fireproof as possible, and built especially for storage purposes, with a large elevator reaching all floors, and easy access to the main plant and to the alleyways at the side.

It is expected that the new building will be ready for occupancy by early summer. Quite a number of men will be given employment for several weeks while the structure is going up.

In addition to the new building the firm also will remodel the remainder of the front of its large plant, adding another huge show window in the section next to the alley between the plant and the Hodson Hospital. An outside entrance to the woman's waiting room also will be constructed in the course of the remodeling work.

MILITANTS ARE TAKEN IN TOW

New York, March 5.—Six women, members of the National Women's party, were arrested on charges of disorderly conduct after a battle last night with policemen in front of the Metropolitan Opera-house, where they had intended to stage a demonstration against President Wilson. Soon after they had been locked up at the West Thirtieth Street station all of them were released.

Three of the women arrested were Miss Alice Paul and Miss Doris Stevens of New York and Elsie Hill of Norwalk Conn. The other three gave their names as "Jane Doe."

Fifty policemen charged down on a group of 30 suffragists when they started a demonstration, taking into custody the six most active agitators.

They were booked to appear at the women's night court, but when the patrol wagon arrived to take them there the announcement came that they had been released.

Where the word to release the women came from or who stood sponsor for it, no one connected with the police department would say tonight.

MANCHURIA IS FULL OF CROOKS OF WORST TYPE

Lawlessness Reigns in Siberian City Where Many Peoples Blend as Result of War

Enroute to Omsk, Aboard British Military Train, January 1.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press)—Manchuria, or Manchuria, on the border of mysterious Mongolia, Manchuria and Siberia, recalls today a typical American mining town in the early days when lawlessness reigned. Its broad unpaved streets are bordered by an extraordinary collection of stores and shanties. Thick fur-caped Manchurian ponies dragging droshkies tear through the principal thoroughfares followed slowly by stately dromedaries forming caravans from the great desert of Mongolia.

Men of a score of nationalities push their way along the sidewalks. Swarthy men from the far interior with great leather coats and jaunty fur hats, trimmed with blue silk and crowned by a flaring red tassel, stood in the railroad station staring haughtily at the motley assemblage about them composed of emaciated, despairing Russian refugees, bearded Russians who wore enormous felt boots to keep out the cold, Manchurian fakers, selling matches and cigarettes, wounded and frost-bitten Czechoslovak soldiers returning from the front, Japanese troops of whom there is a large contingent stationed in the city, nimble Chinese infantrymen in smart uniforms of blue, Armenians, Turks, Arabs, and rich Chinese merchants sleek and smiling in black fur overcoats and sealskin hats.

Manchuria moves in fear. Outlaw bands have raided the town in the past, carrying off food and sometimes people. They still come in the dead of night and bold is he who goes out in the darkness, unarmed. A slit throat and a body lying stiff in the icy street tells its own story.

All along the way we had heard of the fine fur mittens to be purchased at Manchuria, for fur-lined gloves offer no resistance to the cold of Siberia. The fur-coated animals of Siberia went for a song before the war, but now there are none in the market. Defective transportation, the chaos reigning in the life of Siberia today and the cornering of the available supply by speculators account for the shortage. At all events there were no fur mittens in Manchuria and no fur of any kind. A fur coat in Russia is almost worth its weight in silver.

"UTTERLY IMPOSSIBLE"

New York, March 5.—(By Associated Press)—Government operation of shipping was opposed by J. H. Rosseter, director of operations of the United States Shipping Board, in a speech at a luncheon of the American Manufacturers' Export Association here. "I believe it to be impracticable and prejudicial in so far as it concerns railroads," Mr. Rosseter said of Government ownership. "As to ships it is utterly impossible."

COHALAN IS FORCED OUT

New York, March 5.—President Wilson refused last night to confer with the delegation named by the Irish race convention in Philadelphia to urge his support of Irish freedom until Justice Daniel F. Cohalan of the New York state supreme court, mentioned in the Bernstorff correspondence, had withdrawn from the room at the Metropolitan opera-house, in which the meeting was held.

According to Thomas J. Breslin, a member of the delegation, the president asked W. J. Moran, who headed his secret service body guard, to inform the Irishmen of his refusal to attend the conference if Justice Cohalan was present.

At the close of the president's address at the Metropolitan Opera-house, Breslin said, Moran appeared in the room assigned for the meeting and delivered the message. Justice Cohalan insisted upon leaving the room rather than interfere with the conference.

Meanwhile the president, with Joseph P. Tumulty, his private secretary, remained in an anteroom, after having stated he would give Justice Cohalan five minutes to leave. On receiving word that he had done so, the president remained in conference with the Irish delegation for nearly half an hour.

The whereabouts of Zapata himself is a matter of mystery, but with the surrender of de la O. the last dangerous Zapata adherent will have been accounted for.

Senate Filibuster Blocks Legislature

The Sixty-fifth Congress, after having held three sessions—635 days of strenuous activity—during which war was declared on Germany, and countless war measures enacted; an appropriation of sixty billion dollars made and twenty-five billion dollars authorized in bonds; the selective draft act passed, the national prohibition resolution adopted and many other measures of far-reaching effect acted upon, ended its historic record in a Senate filibuster of Republicans banded together to force an extra session which blocked important legislation bills. The filibuster was conducted by a little group of Republicans, pronounced by the Republican leader of the Senate as "beyond control," banded together to force the speedy calling of an extra session.

There have been famous filibusters—one of the best remembered in recent years the session when Senator Burton held the floor for 24 hours,—but not in the last thirty years, said veteran congressional employees, has there been such a complete tie-up of business by a filibuster.

Even the usual and perfunctory affairs, such as resolutions and other exchange of courtesy to and from the retiring officers was prevented.

As a result vitally important measures were tied up and killed, among them the bill appropriating $750,000,000 for the Railroad Administration, without which government control may be abandoned and the railroads returned to private ownership in the near future, and big bills that included both the army and navy appropriation measures.

The only two important measures which ran the gauntlet of the last forty-eight hours of filibustering were the victory liberty loan bill and the billion dollar wheat guarantee bill.

It is a grave possibility that this all-night filibuster, interrupted by senatorial snores from members uncomfortably asleep on table tops or assembled chairs, will not only embarrass the administration but other interests as well.

President Wilson, in a statement condemning the action places all responsibility upon this small group of men in the Senate, accusing them of imperiling the financial interests of the railway systems of the country and of making arbitrary use of power intended to be employed in the interest of the people, and announces his refusal to call an extra session until after his return from the peace conference.

Senator Lodge, Republican leader, decries the act as "a personal and not a party affair by a few Republicans beyond control," and declared that three-fourths of the Republicans sincerely deplored the failure of the railroad appropriation bill.

Regardless of party affiliation it is questionable whether the majority of the people are in sympathy with this spectacular last act of the war congress drama, which came with all the force of a sudden blow.

There may be times when the end justifies the means of the filibuster, but with measures of such importance needing discussion, the time so short and the President contemplating a long absence overseas, this blocking of legislation will hardly strike the nation as opportune.

The power which gives to a small minority group of law makers, influenced by personal motives, the right to hold up and prevent national legislation has in it dangerous menace.

Is Chicago American

The loyalty issue made against William Hale Thompson, now Mayor of Chicago and a candidate in the Republican primaries for renomination, has had no effect. The Chicago Republicans have spoken. By more than 40,000 plurality they have downed a 100 per cent American candidate. Thompson wins. And the big German wards, which went almost solidly for him, cheer wildly the overwhelming victory. The smell of sauerkraut, which is not liberty cabbage, is in the air. If the "Wacht am Rhein" is not played in the streets by the little German bands, discretion, not penitence, is in evidence.

Who can resist the questioning, "Is Chicago American?" Politically, with James R. Mann as her shining light in Washington, and Thompson a candidate for Mayor, her attitude justifies the query. And yet the time was, and not so many years ago, when Chicago boasted herself to be more American than New York or Boston or Philadelphia, and many people took her at her own estimate.

Of course, neither Mann nor Thompson, nor most of the German-American hyphenated voters to whom they are so obsequious, took any stand against the United States after we entered the war. That would have required a high degree of courage. They waited. Today Germany, defeated, discredited, penalized by the world, has their sympathy, not too openly expressed. They will be sad if she is adequately punished, and the end is not yet. —Brooklyn Eagle.

POEM FOR TODAY

A CONFIDENT TOMORROW

Springs many an impulse from the heart, when sunset shades are falling,
And mem'ry clamors o'er the past, to hear the future calling.
That voice that woos its soul beyond, the sunrise of the morrow,
May be no vain, enchanting spell, that slumbers o'er a sorrow.
For in the folds of fleeting time, where hopes and joys reside,
There are no sorrows in the heart, the future cannot hide.

The wrinkles on the ocean's breast—
a day will still their motion—
And sun-beamed bay their foaming crests like wreaths upon the ocean.
The wisdom that refines the day—
that ends its balm and healing—
To angry notes oft glides away—leaves all its vot'ries kneeling—
For then the shame of truth reversed, brings saint and sinner pain,
And spreads no unction o'er the breast of some false prize we gain.

No age has placed its chosen seal upon each heart's desiring
Nor fed its gods of happiness to un-extinguished firing.
But from the melting pot of time,
some purer metal falling Regilds the canopy of Time and ornaments its walling.
Till that unphilosophic lie—"grasp and catch who will and can"—
Sets backward with its thunderbolt
"The Parliament of Man."
—Philadelphia Ledger.

STOMACH UPSET?

Get at the Real Cause—Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to catch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, away goes indigestion and stomach troubles.

If you have a bad taste in your mouth, tongue coated, appetite poor, lazy, don't-care feeling, no ambition or energy, troubled with undigested foods, you should take Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. They do the work without griping, cramps or pain.

Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief, so you can eat what you like. At 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

FARM NOTES

Bees Diseases Prevalent.

Diseases of the brood of bees known as American foul brood, European foul brood, cec brood and the like are known to be prevalent in Ohio, says Professor J. S. Hine of the College of Agriculture. One of the most common means of disseminating these diseases is through the well-known habit of robbing.

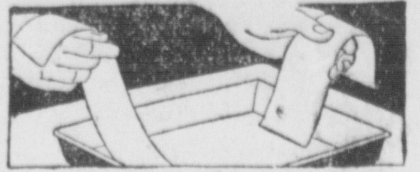

which is habitual with bees generally. With the first really warm days of spring, bees are almost sure to go foraging. They often fly for long distances in search of honey and are very persistent in their attempts to procure it.

Many of the colonies that have died during the past winter had an infection of foul brood last fall. These unoccupied hives are just what robbers desire to find. If any honey is left it is almost sure to be robbed out and if infected the germs of disease are carried to other hives where they develop. As a partial preventive of robbing and consequent spreading of foul brood, Professor Hine says that all hives in which colonies have died should be carefully closed at once so if the disease is present bees from healthy colonies cannot reach it. Beekeepers interested in protecting their own yards would do well to consult with neighbor beekeepers and inform them of the importance of acting on these suggestions.

News of Interest to Women

Miss Catherine C. Biddle one of the prominent members of the younger social set of Philadelphia is reported as the first woman who has purchased an airplane for pleasure purposes. She will drive it herself, but will also have an Aerial Chauffeur.

The New York Sun says in part: "For several years Miss Biddle, who resides with her father at Fort Washington, has been interested in aviation. With the recent progress of aeronautics she determined to learn to fly and have a machine of her own."

"As she is only slightly over 20, her father used every effort to discourage her, but with the entrance of Miss Biddle's cousin, Major Charles J. Biddle, in the Air Service of the army her interest increased. She became still more insistent, until her father finally consented to attempt to purchase a machine."

"With the entrance of the United States in the war and the sudden demand for airplanes and consequent increase in production, virtually every large manufacturing plant in the country had contracted with the Government for every machine it could turn out."

After trying to purchase from several plants without avail, Mr. Biddle was about to give up the project when through a stroke of fortune a company notified him they had a plane ready for shipment, which they could sell; but that due to the Government embargo they could not furnish an engine for it. This machine was purchased and shipped to the Biddle estate at Fort Washington, where a hanger was built for it and it was later assembled by mechanics.

"Numerous attempts were made to obtain a suitable power plant for the ship, but the Government embargo proved so leakproof that this was impossible and the plane was left idle in its hanger for months awaiting the end of the conflict and the lifting of the ban on motors."

"A few weeks ago Mr. Biddle was notified that the Government had lifted and that a company in New Jersey could sell a powerful

French modeled motor of American manufacture. "The motor was purchased and delivered."

Tribute to the beauty of the American woman was paid by Captain H. J. Pfeister, well-known lumberman in a talk on his experiences abroad given before the Lumbermen's Club of Cincinnati at its monthly dinner at the Hotel Metropole, Monday night.

"When it comes to pretty girls and beautiful women, America is unsurpassed," declared Captain Pfeister. "If a hundred American women would dress in the French style and go to Paris they would stampee the place. It might be hard to persuade the average American woman to dress with as little as the French woman, but if she did, there would not be any contest. There are good-looking women in Paris, but when it comes to beauty, America takes the palm."

The Cecilians opened their Tuesday afternoon meeting with a business session, of which one interesting feature was the report concerning a courtesy extended by this organization to Camp Sherman in the form of a group of entertainers, who for two days placed their talents at the disposal of the boys in camp. These Cecilian entertainers were Mr. James Kneisley, Miss Helen Teeters, Mrs. Ethel Foster and Mrs. Bostwick of Mt. Sterling.

The program committee appointed for the next year comprised Mrs. B. E. Kelley, Chairman; Miss Helen Teeters, Mrs. C. F. Ballard and Miss Edith Gardner.

The program, delightfully varied and charmingly rendered was as follows: Current Events, Mrs. Nina M. Craig; "Pilgrim's Progress," Mrs. Edgar Stillman Kelley; Miss Dell Lanum; Paper—The Peterborough Settlement, the Home of Edward MacDowell; Miss Minnie Light; Piano—A May Song, Foote; Mrs. Eva T. Craig; Piano—Allegretto Movement, Beethoven; Senada Opus 3; Mrs. Roy Creamer; Summertime Song, Oley Speaks; Mrs. Lona G. Hughey; Piano—The Banjo, Gottschalk; Miss Helen Teeters.

The program closed with the singing of patriotic songs, led by Miss Sheen, and the playing of the National Anthems of Our Allies by Miss Teeters.

Three of the best papers of the year were presented to the Browning Club Tuesday night by the Department of Household Economics, Mrs. Marie Persinger, Chairman. The first paper took the form of a discussion, the subject, "Moving Pictures" being comprehensively presented by the able Club President, Mrs. Julia H. Dahl, substituting for his sister, Mrs. Flora H. Tysor, now in Gallatin, Tenn.

Mrs. Dahl sketched the progress of moving picture censorship, as largely the result of women's effort and impressed its immense importance in giving to the public the right kind of pictures.

The Board of Reviews was established in New York in 1910 and the next step was taken in Chicago five years later. Four states now have state censorship, Ohio, Kansas, Pennsylvania and New York. The Ohio Board was formed in 1915 and passes yearly on from 2,500 to 3,000 pictures, cutting out those portions deemed undesirable. These Boards were established following investigation made by women, which proved the need of elimination.

It was a most interesting presentation, followed by animated club discussion.

Miss Edith Gardner's paper answered the question, "Is Woman's Suffrage a Real Need?" with forceful logic and convincing argument, and was a notable paper even in this Club having an established reputation for exceptionally fine work.

In dealing with the Suffrage question Miss Gardner touched in greatly condensed form, upon the high lights of the State Convention in Columbus last week. She dwelt with emphasis upon the moral conditions of the country and the fact that all child labor and welfare laws were first taken up upon the insistence of women.

In discussing objections made to Suffrage she answered the one, often used, that women would vote as their husbands did. Miss Gardner said that while many would probably do so, it was no less true that sons almost always voted as had their fathers—they often changed their religious beliefs, but rarely the political.

"The Anti-Suffragists say that women are not informed on the commercial and industrial situation. Surely the enlightened and well educated women can vote as intelligently as the illiterate foreigner and the negro of the Reconstruction period! Surely the highly cultured and refined heiress who provides the Alm's house can form an opinion as sound and logical as the Alm's taker."

The strongest proof that the country needs the woman's vote is found in the way political parties and the biggest men in the country are endorsing it."

The third of this trio of papers, by Mrs. Olive P. Blakeley was in quite different vein and presented in a most interesting and entertaining way, "The Home Life of Famous American Writers."

Foremost Massachusetts writers were first presented, Hawthorne and the home influences that led to the writing of "The Scarlet Letter" and "The House of the Seven Gables," Emerson, Louisa Alcott, Longfellow, Lowell, Holmes—Mrs. Blakeley had visited these homes and the personal touch added interest.

The homes of New York writers presented were Stoddard, Rowe and Alice and Phoebe Cary, the latter cousins of Mrs. Blakeley. She described their home life in detail. The inspiration of many of their writings was drawn from the old home Cincinnati.

"Coates Gwynne, the leading man in 'Come Out of the Kitchen,' playing at the Murphy Theatre last night was suffering from a very severe case of tonsillitis. For a time it was feared that he would not be able to appear for the evening, but pluckily he went through the part—and to his credit it may be said that perhaps not one in 100 persons noticed that he acted somewhat strangely at times. He found it very difficult to stand upon his feet at times, it is said, and his fever was running so high as to make him uncertain about himself. Local physicians attended him constantly from the time of his arrival until he left the city Tuesday morning, and it was thought he would be better shortly."—Wilmington News.

LENT IS USHERED IN BY BEAUTIFUL SERVICE

Ash Wednesday ushered in Lent with an impressive service at half past ten o'clock in the morning at St. Andrews Episcopal Church. The attendance was exceptionally large.

Rev. David W. Barre's introductory talk was very beautiful and helpful in its suggestion for this season of sacrifice. The coming of Lent this year really seems more significant than ever before coming at the close of four years of world strife and people are seeking the opportunity to adjust themselves to new conditions. The forty days of the Lenten season afford a most opportune time for meditation and increased spirituality which will be helpful in regarding normal bearings and in fitting for the big task of re-adjustment in this reconstruction period.

Evening prayer will be held at St. Andrews at four o'clock Friday afternoon.

Rev. Barre will begin Mission Services next week, to be conducted each evening at half past seven o'clock.

DIVORCE EVIL IN CLINTON COUNTY

That Fayette county is not alone in the divorce evil is indicated by the following excerpt from the Wilmington News of Tuesday:

"One needs nothing more than the Court records of Clinton County to secure a perfect insight into how things are running in a marital way in this county."

"A week's record in the Common Pleas Court showed 12 divorce actions—three new cases filed, three actions in cases pending before the Court, five divorces granted, and one case settled with a decree of separation."

It is noted in connection with the above item that only four marriage licenses were issued from the Clinton County probate court in the same period of time that the 12 divorce actions occurred.

MAJOR PARRETT AGAIN INVOLVED IN INFIRMARY JOB

Former Fayette Countian Claims He Is Still Superintendent And Another Man Insists He Is Not.

Two Men On Same Job In Ross Attracting Great Deal of Interest.

Major George C. Parrett, former well known resident of near Bloomington, and who sprung into prominence in Ross County a few years ago by filing suit against the County Commissioners after he had been relieved of the job of Superintendent of the Ross County Infirmary, again is involved in a somewhat similar mixup, according to Chillicothe papers, and the News-Advertiser tells the story as follows:

"Pity the poor employee at the county infirmary. They don't know whom to mind.

"George Parrett says he is the superintendent and that he's boss. The county commissioners say James Watt, of Union township, is superintendent, and James says therefore he is boss. So there's a big conflict of authority.

"We're between the devil and the deep blue sea," said one employee Monday. "We can't even be neutral.

When Mr. Parrett says do something we have to get in bad with Mr. Watt, and when Mr. Watt says do something we have to get in bad with Mr. Parrett."

"What makes it worse for the poor employees is that both the bosses are living at the infirmary and are constantly on the job. Even though Parrett's banner was still floating from the bulwarks Watt moved his furniture into the institution Saturday. And since that time both the bosses have been bossing the same institution, eating at the same table and sleeping in adjoining rooms.

"All the trouble is due to the fact that the county commissioners recently accepted Parrett's resignation as superintendent and appointed Watt. Although his resignation was accepted, Parrett says that he didn't resign and that he is going to hold to the job, which is under the civil service.

Parrett says further that he wanted to resign last fall, but that they would not accept it then. He says he has changed his mind about resigning since then and that the commissioners cannot accept a resignation which he submitted verbally six months ago."

"County Auditor Barrett says he'll stick with the commissioners and that when the monthly pay check goes out it will go to Watt. There has also been intimations that if Parrett persists in remaining at the county farm there may be a board bill to pay. "In the opinion of Prosecuting Attorney J. P. Phillips, Jr., Watt is the rightful incumbent. He assisted Watt Monday in filing the necessary superintendent's bond."

GHOST SHIP IS STILL MYSTERY

London, February 18.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—Among the war stories that British naval men feel free to tell now is one about a "ghost ship" whose mystery has never been solved.

In 1917, a convoy of twelve ships left a British port. At dawn on the day after sailing the escort commander discovered thirteen ships under his charge. While identity of the extra ships were being discussed the convoy was suddenly attacked by German light cruisers and most of the escort and nine of the merchant men were sunk. The Germans then made off.

Survivors positively assert that there were thirteen ships and that the mysterious vessel disappeared as strangely as she had appeared. They are certain that the ship was not sunk. Official inquiries failed to throw any light on the nature of the craft. It was ascertained that she could not have been a disguised German raider, and her presence was "logged" by the escort commander.

WILSON WILL TELL PEACE CONFERENCE MAJORITY OF AMERICANS FAVOR LEAGUE

President Denounces Opponents to Pact and Intimates Ignorance on Part of Some Solons Responsible

Taft Lauds League Plan Saying Washington if He Lived Now Would Favor it

(By Associated Press)
New York, March 5th.—President Wilson told the American people in an address here last night, on the eve of his return to Paris, that he was going back to the Peace Conference to battle with renewed vigor for the creation of a league of nations.

"The first thing I am going to tell the people on the other side of the water is that an overwhelming majority of the American people is in favor of a league of nations," said the President.

Speaking after former President Taft had expounded the main features of the proposed covenant of nations, Mr. Wilson told the vast audience, which filled the Metropolitan Opera House, his opinions of opponents of the league plan in America.

"No party has the right to appropriate this issue and no party will in the long run dare oppose it," he asserted.

Asserting that the league of nations is "meant as a notice to all outlaw nations" that the great peoples of the world will no longer tolerate international crimes, the president said that "Europe is a bit sick at heart at this very moment, because it sees that statesmen have had no vision, and that the only vision has been the vision of the people."

"And I am amazed—not alarmed, but amazed that there should be in some quarters such a comprehensive ignorance of the state of the world," continued Mr. Wilson. "Those gentlemen do not know what the mind of men is just now. Everybody else does."

In closing, the president said America could look forward with confidence to the future, for he had heard cheering news since he had come to this side of the water about the progress that is being made in Paris towards the discussion and clarification of a great many difficult matters, and he believed that settlements will begin to be made rather rapidly from this time on at the conferences. He said he would not come back until it was over there.

The meeting was presided over by Governor Smith and admission was by tickets given out by the peace organizations under whose direction the gathering was held. The strongest guard ever provided by this city was drawn out to protect the president. The opera-house was searched from basement to gallery before the meeting opened.

Police lines were drawn two blocks from all sides of the opera-house. Seat holders arriving in automobiles were forced to descend one block from the building and walk to the main entrance. At least 15 uniformed policemen vied each ticket before a seat holder could reach the main entrance of the building and almost as many more men scanned the tickets before a person reached his seat.

The doors were opened shortly before 7 o'clock, and, as fashionably dressed men and women, with many representatives of the army, navy and marines filed down the aisles to their seats, the port of embarkation band played patriotic airs.

The President and Mr. Taft walked onto the stage arm in arm. They were applauded for several minutes. The audience remained standing until the president took his seat.

A wave of cheers swept over the house as the president and Mr. Taft took the center of the platform. The president stepped forward and bowed to all sides of the house. Mr. Taft then stepped forward and acknowledged the cheers. Cleveland H. Dodge called for three cheers for President Wilson and three more for Mr. Taft. They were given with a will. Then some one in the house called for three more cheers for the president and the audience burst forth into another wave of applause.

Enrico Caruso, introduced by Governor Smith, sang the "Star Spangled Banner," and Charles Hackett sang "America."

Governor Smith opened his speech by paying a tribute to the part the New York soldiers had played in the war.

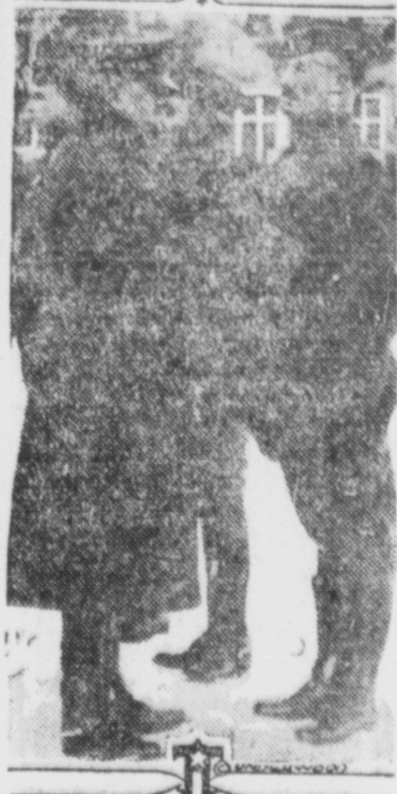

"The war is not yet won," he said, "and will not be until the Golden Rule is written into the international law of the world."

He introduced Mr. Taft as the man "who had worn the purple of the president of the United States and with grace and honor."

Mr. Taft spoke first. The president smiled broadly when Mr. Taft referred to the resolution introduced in the senate last night by Senator Lodge, proposing rejection of the league of nations constitution as now drawn.

"If the president insists, as I hope he will," said Mr. Taft, "that the league be incorporated in the peace treaty, and brings it back, then the responsibility for postponing peace is with the body that refuses to ratify it."

Referring to the argument against a league that participation by the United States would be in opposition to the principles laid down by George Washington, Mr. Taft declared he believed Washington, if he lived to day, would be "one of the most earnest and pressing for the covenant."

Washington's attack on "entangling alliances," he said, was an attack on "defensive and offensive alliances with one nation against another."

JAPANESE AND CHEAP LABOR

Tokio, March 5.—(By Associated Press)—The prohibition of cheap immigrant labor, except under special permission of the authorities, is by no means a dead letter in Japan. Six hundred Chinese coolies recently were sent back to Antung under police escort by the Home Minister.

Commenting on this incident M. Zumoto, editor of the Herald of Asia, tells his countrymen that the policy that excludes Japanese labor from America and Australia, makes it possible for Japanese laborers to earn a living at home.

The coolies in question had been imported from Antung by an iron manufacturer at Hiroshima, who lost $25,000 by the operation.

FARM EXHIBIT GOES TO FRANCE

New York, March 4.—(By Associated Press)—A $60,000 farming exhibit is being shipped this week to France by the War Work Council of the Young Men's Christian Association to be used for the instruction of thousands of soldiers in the American Expeditionary Force, who want to return to the farms when their regiments are demobilized. The exhibit was assembled by the United States Department of Agriculture at the request of the War Department.

It includes samples of soil from every county of the United States, dairy utensils, egg testers, cereal and corn samples, insecticides and fungicides, and other material sufficient to fill five cars.

KILLED BY ASSASSIN

Abubillah Khan, Ameer of Afghanistan, was murdered on February 20 while in camp at Laghman, according to a dispatch from London. Afghanistan is an island country of considerable size in South Asia adjoining India, Persia and Russia. Abubillah Khan succeeded to the throne in October, 1901. The country, since the tribesmen have been put down, has been under the protection of Great Britain, although the Ameer has claimed to be an independent sovereign. In 1907 the Ameer, who had four wives, visited Calcutta, India. While there he was introduced to the Duke and Duchess of Manchester, the latter formerly Miss Helen Zimmerman, of Cincinnati. The Ameer is said to have offered to purchase the Duchess from her husband.

COULD APPLY IT HERE IN U. S.

London, March 5.—(By Associated Press)—If a news vender in England shouts sensational news in order to sell his papers the news must be in the paper or he gets into trouble. The other day when business was a little slack one of them cried "Another Police Strike." That was new and also interesting to a policeman and, when he found nothing in the paper to substantiate the shouting, he arrested the boy who was fined five shillings.

Many a man's word is like an echo—merely a hollow mockery.

MANY BUCKEYE MINERS ARE IDLE

Columbus, Ohio, March 4.—(By Associated Press) John Moore, president of the Ohio workers organization today declared that out of approximately 50,000 miners in Ohio, between 18,000 and 20,000 were idle during the last week of February and approximately 15,000 of this number had not worked a single day since January 1.

Moore estimated that in the north-eastern district alone there were 12,000 idle miners out of a total of about 22,000. Those having employment were working only about 41 per cent of the time, he said. In the southern district, which usually employs about 28,000, Moore said, approximately 8,000 were idle and the 20,000 were not working more than one fourth of the time. Conditions in both districts were growing worse, he said.

Moore attributed the idleness in Ohio mines to suspension of many business activities through the ending of the war; the attitude of the federal administration is not buying Ohio coal, and loss of Indiana, Illinois and Michigan markets through the federal fuel administrator's orders establishing coal market zones. Diversion of the total Ohio production exclusively to the northwest through the lake ports, Moore declared, caused Michigan, Indiana, and Illinois industries that formerly used Ohio coal to obtain supplies from these states and contracts for one year were forced upon them by the operators. He says there will be no relief in Ohio before the opening of the lake traffic.

One year ago, coal production was at its highest stage in history. Every mine was working and labor was not sufficient to supply the demand, Moore said.
